Presentation of Allotment Competition Prizes

Kirkburton Parish Council ran the allotment competition again this year for the tenants on the two allotment gardens in Grange Moor and Shepley.

Graham Porter, a renowned Gardening Expert and former gardening columnist of the Huddersfield Examiner, judged all the entries the basis of the variety and quality of the crops grown, as well as the organisation of the plot. Mr Porter had quite a tough job picking out just 2 winners at each site, but after much consideration he announced the winners & runners up as follows: Grange Moor: Lynn Willis/Roz Pering and Jane Greetham/Carole Scott. Shepley: Raymond Horn, Christine/Mellor Trudy Mansfield.

Cllr Cass Whittingham said, "I'm pleased that the competitions continue to be popular amongst our allotment tenants. Looking at all the entries I'm surprised that Graham has managed to establish the winners, as they are all in such a good condition."
